Supervisor Leck Explains the Position of the Board of Supervisors

MUCH FOR BRIDGES MEANS LESS ON ROADS

Tustin Member Willing to Vote for Appropriation With Subscription List

That the Board of Supervisors declined to take action for the immediate building of a bridge over the Santa Ana river at West Seventeenth street was not meant as an expression of opposition to the project, was the assertion of a member of the board today.

In his talk at the meeting on Wednesday, Chairman Talbert stated that he was willing to build all the bridges necessary, provided the taxpayers "would stand the tax and say they liked it."

The position of the board is this: The board takes money from the current expense fund for bridges, road oil, culverts, tools and other incidentals needed for helping the road system. Weak road districts are helped out in this manner. If the current expense fund is largely exhausted for bridges, there is that much less left for the general care of the roads.

This year the county has spent $6000 in bridges in Supervisor Struck's district, and it contemplates between $13,000 and $16,000 for the new bridge on West Fifth street. Some of the members of the board feel that a bridge on Talbert road will be imperative for the hauling of sugar beets. As soon as the river channel is dredged across that road, passage for heavy loads will be almost impossible, and there is no bridge near at hand over which the ranchers can take their loads on the journey to the sugar factory.

"Something will have to be done at that point," said Supervisor Leck. "Either a permanent bridge or a temporary bridge will have to be built. The condition is far more pressing than at Seventeenth street, for in comparison there will be little heavy tonnage at Seventeenth."

On top of what has been done and what may have to be done on Talbert road, Supervisor Leck pointed out that the board had agreed with the State Highway Commission to build all necessary bridges along the state highway.

"That may have to be done within a year," said Leck, "for the way they are talking, that state road will be coming through at no very far distant date. The supervisors had that in mind when we took the action we did in regard to the Seventeenth street bridge. There are a number of bridges on that line. Several of them are being built. We have to put in concrete bridges to meet the permanent character of the good roads."

"In view of this possible expenditure, we felt it was our duty not to undertake any more bridge work than we have to undertake, for the first thing we would know we would have nothing left with which to keep up the roads, and I for one, do not want to be in a position to quit taking care of the roads."

"Suppose this subscription list should be gotten up for the building of the Seventeenth street bridge, do you think the supervisors would help us?" was asked the Tustin supervisor.

"I for one will vote in favor of appropriating some money for that purpose," replied Leck. "I don't think we would be justified in going in heavy to the extent of building the bridge at this time, but I want to see that bridge built and I am willing to vote to make an appropriation."

Local Socialists Back Meetings to Express Opinion of Free-Speech War

HAWLEY SAYS NO INVASION PLANNED

Jack White, San Diego Leader, Here to Arouse Sentiment for Prisoners

Local Socialists have undertaken a short campaign for the purpose of making known to Santa Ana the real facts as they see them in the free speech war now on at San Diego. Last night there was a meeting of the Socialist local of Santa Ana, at which about thirty were present.

Jack White, who is out on bail from San Diego, addressed the meeting, explained the situation and enlisted the services of the local in the cause of educating the people of Santa Ana to a knowledge of the issues.

As the result of the meeting last night, it was agreed that White shall speak at 7:30 o'clock tonight on Main street just off of Fourth street. Mrs. Irene Smith of 713 East Chestnut, a leader among the women Socialists of Santa Ana, may also speak. It is planned to hold a mass meeting at some hall in Santa Ana a week from next Sunday.

That the Socialists of Santa Ana were interesting themselves in San Diego's troubles was first made known to officers here last night when five Santa Ana women visited the Orange County jail.

These women went to the sheriff's office and asked for a permit to go through the jail to see it. The names given by the visitors were E. Umthum, M. E. Taylor, Mrs. E. W. Hardy, Irene Smith and O. L. Edgerton. It was not understood that the visitors wanted to see any particular persons. In cases of visiting, the rule of the sheriff's office is that the name of the person to be seen shall be written on the permit, which is presented to Jailor Jernigan. The sheriff's office did not understand that the visitors desired to see prisoners, but the jail.

Jailor Jernigan took the five women in charge to show them the jail. When the misdemeanor ward was reached, the women shook hands through the bars with some of the prisoners and told them that they were Socialists and were going to do what they could to help them win their fight for free speech, and that there would be a meeting of the local Socialists to talk the matter over.

This morning Jack White of San Diego appeared for a permit to visit the jail. He was told that he would have to follow the rules of the jail. He should name the prisoners he wanted to see, and they would be brought to the jail office just as is done in other cases of friends visiting prisoners. Sheriff Ruddock told White that he could talk to a committee of three of the thirty prisoners who are confined in jail here because the San Diego jail is overcrowded. The conversation was held. White left $10 with the jailer to be used for tobacco and other articles that might be wanted by the prisoners.

White said he had been in jail in San Diego, but was out on bail. A. E. Hawley, a Santa Ana Socialist leader, stated that White came before the meeting last night and said that the San Diego papers would not publish the free speech side of the controversy. White's statement to the meeting, as given to the Register by Hawley, in short is as follows:

For years public speaking has been allowed at the corner of E and Fifth streets, San Diego. That is a corner where there is little traffic and no street cars. White counted in one evening but two automobiles and one wagon passing that corner. White said that out of spite, the city passed an ordinance establishing a district in which street speaking was prohibited. This district comprised eight blocks, and threw the speaking, if continued, to corners where there was little light and few likely to gather to hear the speech-making. This caused the protest. Scores of men went to jail as martyrs. White says there are some I.W.W. men, some Socialists and some union men, that some quiet jobs of $3 and $4 a day to go to jail in the cause. White denies that the men in the county jail here are hoboes. "Take the offer of the city of San Diego to go to work for $2 and stay in jail until this ordinance is tested out," said Hawley. "That will be on appeal from the first conviction." When asked if that could not be done just as well by one man staying in jail and allowing the test to be made on him as by having themselves arrested in dozens, Hawley

CAPT. AMUNDSEN ONLY SURE POLE FINDER

Uncertainty as to Scott Today—All Norway Celebrating—King Haakon Wires Congratulations to Amundsen

LONDON, March 8.—A dispatch to Reuters Agency from Hobart, Tasmania, says that "Capt. Amundsen positively denies telling the correspondent of the London Express or anyone else that Capt. Robert Scott had reached the South Pole."

The Royal Geographical Society has cabled to New Zealand for further information. The reply was that nothing had been heard from either Amundsen or Scott.

A Hobart dispatch to the London Star says Amundsen refused to reply when asked if Scott had reached the South Pole.

CHRISTIANA, Norway, March 8.—Today's session of parliament was devoted to glorifying Capt. Roald Amundsen's achievement. Congratulatory cables were sent him at Hobart, Tasmania. Celebrations are taking place throughout Norway. It is reported that Capt. Amundsen has cabled King Haakon a full account of the polar achievement.

King Haakon has cabled congratulations to Amundsen, granting him permission to use the names of the King, and Queen Maud in connection with the new lands. The nature of Amundsen's discoveries are still unknown. The Norwegians are excited because for many years it has been reported that there are gold deposits in the Antarctic circle.

said that he thought it could be done just as well that way. Personally, he thought that would be all right, but the San Diego people have taken the other method.

Sheriff Ruddock thinks that Santa Ana is in some danger of an invasion of the I. W. W. people. He said that letters have been written by prisoners now here urging their leaders to flock to Santa Ana. These letters have all been forwarded to San Diego to Sheriff Jennings, whose prisoners the men here are.

"Does this meeting that will be held tonight and the mass meeting to be held a week from Sunday mean that the Santa Ana Socialists have any idea of starting a free speech war here?" was asked Hawley.

"No, indeed," answered Hawley. "We do not want any such thing here. We would avoid that. So far as I know, two meetings will be held here. All we want is to let the people of Santa Ana know the truth about that fight at San Diego. We want to show that these men are not hoboes and idlers, but that they are martyrs in a cause of justice and free speech. I assure you that we do not want any invasion. The matter can be tested out in San Diego, and I think it should not be attempted to spread the war to Santa Ana. I have heard nothing of any such plan."

LA FOLLETTE WILL DISCUSS RECORDS

WASHINGTON, March 8.—Admitting a serious disagreement with Senator La Follette, Representative Lenoir explained his withdrawal as a Wisconsin candidate to the Republican convention saying: "We differed as to certain matters unnecessary to discuss now. I have been close to Senator La Follette for years and if I went to the convention he would expect me to be his spokesman. It would be unfair to him for me to take any position in the convention with which he is not in accord. It will relieve him of embarrassment if I withdraw."

LA FOLLETTE WILL DISCUSS RECORDS OF ALL CANDIDATES

Senator La Follette declared today that he will discuss the records of all the presidential candidates including President Taft and Theodore Roosevelt. He denied that the discussion would take the form of a personal verbal attack of Roosevelt or others. He said:

"The issue of the campaign is the right of every individual to free himself from the unjust exactions of the tariff, the railroads, the trusts, the money power and special privilege oppression. In the presence of these problems, personal attacks have no place. The public has the right to determine the fitness of the candidates and to know what each has actually done. Hence the exact record of each candidate is as important as his present declarations. It is necessary to discuss their records as well as the remedies they propose. But such a discussion can not be distorted into personal attack."

Senator La Follette's statement followed the question whether or not he planned a direct attack on Theodore Roosevelt.

The residents are arming and will aid the loyal troops in the defense of the city. Citizen troops are being drilled by army officers and street barricades are being erected. The rebels are five miles nearer the capital today.

President Madero has renewed his denials that he plans a new cabinet. It is expected that the American residents will demand that the government furnish them arms.

LAWRENCE STRIKE NEAR SETTLEMENT

Tentative Agreement for Better Conditions Followed Conference Today

LAWRENCE, Mass., March 8.—Following a conference of mill owners and strikers, it was announced today that a compromise agreement has practically been accepted, both sides making concessions. It is believed the strike will be off by next Tuesday.

The police today arrested five pickets on the charge of disorderly conduct. According to the tentative settlement plans, the poorest paid workers are to receive a substantial wage increase, while the better paid will receive a less increase. "Speed up" and premium systems of work will be abolished. Further indication of near-by peace came when the district attorney refused to deny the report that he will urge the release on bail of Joseph Ertor, the strike leader, held for the murder of a woman killed during the strike riots.

THE NUMBER

County Clerk to Say How Many Voters of the Three Parties There Will be

County Clerk Williams has received a letter from Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan asking him to estimate the number of Republicans, Democrats and Socialists that will vote at the presidential primaries on May 14. The letter states that the primaries will be held to select delegates to the national conventions of the three parties. The prohibition party is not mentioned in the certificate, it having failed to cast a sufficient number of votes at the last election to appear at the primaries. The Republicans are to elect twenty-six delegates, the Democrats twenty-six and the Socialists eighteen. Williams will go over the Great Register today and tomorrow and make his estimates.

The secretary of state informs the county clerk that an estimate of the registration in each party is necessary in order that the office may send to the county clerk the proper amount of ballot paper and the proper number of biographical sketches. The law requires that there shall be sent to each voter a sketch of the life of each candidate of his party preference. This printed matter is to be furnished by the secretary of state and will be mailed out by the county clerk with the sample ballot.

SPREADING OF STORM WATER

The recent rain has been sufficient to cause a considerable runoff from the San Bernardino Mountains by way of the Santa Ana river and its tributaries. The diversion works of the Water Conservation Association were all ready at the time the water came and between 8000 and 10,000 inches of water was diverted from the main channel of the Santa Ana river on to the dry gravel, boulders and sand at the mouth of the Santa Ana Canyon, through three contour ditches. Measurements taken March 7th showed a decided falling off in the water from the day previous, there being on that date about 6000 inches of water diverted. The works of the Association are now in such shape that as much as 15,000 to 20,000 inches of water can be diverted when there is that much flowing in the stream. Even the amount that is now being diverted will be a great help in sustaining the flow of water from the San Bernardino artesian basin during the summer.

SOON GIVE AN EXHIBITION OF MACHINE TO MAKE POLES HEADING TO SEWER FARM

ANAHEIM, March 7.—The American Orr Concrete Co., an incorporation organized on Aug. 25, 1911, among the business men of this city and county for the construction of sectional concrete poles, expects the arrival of a machine today for the construction of these poles. Upon the arrival of the machine it will be erected on Walnut street, west of the Roger place, and an exhibition of the work will be made as soon as possible afterward. The company was incorporated for $250,000 with $121,000 paid in.

This corporation was organized to manufacture the pole which was invented and patented by William Orr, a resident of Anaheim. The patent covers the sectional feature of the concrete pole, as there have been concrete poles in use a good while. In other poles, they were cast in one mass, and then hauled to their position and set up.

With this sectional pole, the sections are to be manufactured by one machine and they will be nine inches in length, and circumference varying according to their position on the pole; i. e., whether near the top or bottom, and also according to the length of the pole. Each section will have four holes, five-eighths of an inch in diameter each to allow a steel bar to pass through them, of which there will be four extending from the top to the bottom of the pole. These cement sections will then be screwed up tight. When the pole is completed, it will be as solid as if it were in one piece. The patent also includes arrangements for cross arms and steps on the side.

The stockholders in this corporation are very enthusiastic over it, and in speaking of it this morning Mr. Orr, the inventor, said that already they had received communications from telephone and electric companies asking when they would be ready to go to work manufacturing poles. This pole can be erected any place, and would be especially useful, as the length of life is practically unlimited. Another feature of the pole is that it can be extended any time by adding new sections.

At present there is a half mile of poles put up in this city by Mr. Orr for demonstration purposes, and are being used for the city's electric line. That the poles are demonstrated to be practical and valuable has been an assured fact from the start, and at no time has there been any doubt about the success of this invention.

The incorporation intends to build and lease the machines for constructing the poles, and to receive a royalty of one dollar for each pole. One machine, it is planned, can turn out 24 poles a day. The machine and other equipment necessary will be portable so that it will be convenient in constructing a line.

At the meeting of the stockholders which was held last Monday night, the former president, Dr. Beebe, resigned, owing to his interest in the Anaheim Sanitarium, and J. W. Walls was elected to succeed him. Geo. Terry was elected secretary. Some of the prominent men who own most of the stock besides the inventor, Mr. Orr, are Sam Kraemer, Fred Ahlborn, J. H. Cook, C. A. Anaheim City Trustees Receive Rights-of-Way Expect to Use Farm

ANAHEIM, March 8.—The city trustees held an adjourned meeting last night in the city hall. For the most part the work was all routine matter. The permission of the Board of Supervisors for a right-of-way along Garden Grove road running north and south between sections 16 and 21 was received. Also a right-of-way was received from H. H. Cune and others for a right-of-way in the city.

This work of securing right-of-way for the sewer line through the intervening country is a determination on the part of this city to carry the system on to its 30 acre ranch in Stanton. Although the state attorney general disallowed the suit which was brought for the annulment of the incorporation of Stanton, this city is going ahead with plans to utilize the 30 acre Gilbert ranch which it owns at that place as its sewer farm.

A building permit was issued to Joe Helmsen to construct a one-story brick building 30x70 feet on the lot adjoining the city hall on the east, value $1200. O. Logman is the contractor.

An ordinance was ordered prepared raising the bond of the city marshal to $5000 and the bond of the city treasurer to $25,000.

Anaheim Notes

W. Beatty and D. Osborne returned this morning from a two days' stay at Newport Beach.

There will be a full entry list of the Anaheim high school track team to enter in the Orange County Track Meet which will be held in Santa Ana tomorrow. Anaheim has some very good men who have made good records and they should be able to annex a good many points. A good many rooters are planning to make the trip.

HEAVILY THROWN IN
JUMPING OFF TRAIN

FULLERTON, March 8.—Yesterday morning Contractor Thompson of Los Angeles, who is building the Placentia school house, was thrown from the Santa Fe Overland train which passes through here at 9:30 a. m. This train does not stop for passengers this side of Fullerton, and Thompson, who had boarded the train at Los Angeles, wanted to get off here at Fullerton. The train was going at the rate of about 15 miles an hour, and when he attempted to jump off, the brakeman tried to keep him from it. In his fall he was only badly bruised, and no bones were broken.

LA HABRA SECTION WILL MAKE HAY

FULLERTON, March 8.—Farmers predict that with little more rain the barley which has been planted in this section will make hay. Several thousand acres in La Habra Valley have been sowed to barley. The total rain fall here for the season is 5.10 inches, and about an inch and a half has fallen in March.

ANAHEIM TO PLAY
SANTA ANA TEAM

ANAHEIM, March 8.—The local baseball team will meet a team from Santa Ana Sunday afternoon on the local grounds and the game is expected to be a very fast one. Cecil DuBois, formerly pitcher for Anaheim, has organized this team, and this will be the second game of the season scheduled by that team. Many local fans will be interested in this game. It is reported that a good many fans from Santa Ana are coming over. The Anaheim lineup will be the same as formerly. The battery for Santa Ana will be Du Bois and Stevens. It is reported that the Santa Ana team has leased the grounds where the Duro factory was to have been.

EIGHT FILED FOR TRUSTEE

Candidates Numerous at Newport Beach—Greeley is Among Them

NEWPORT BEACH, March 8.—Eight men have filed their petitions with City Clerk Wilkinson as candidates for trustee at the municipal election, April 8. For the two-year term, one man to elect, the candidates are: Joseph Ferguson, J. P. Greeley, Albert Hermes and A. N. Smith. Smith is at present president of the board, Mr. Hermes is the street superintendent and Mr. Greeley has until lately been superintendent of the Whittier State School. Mr. Ferguson was defeated for re-election as trustee two years ago.

For the two four-year terms, four candidates appear: A. R. Lott, a plumber; W. K. Parkinson, a retired oil man; Charles H. Wallace, cashier of the State Bank of Newport, and C. H. Way, a Balboa grocer.

City Clerk Wilkinson is being opposed by J. F. Porter, while Lew H. Wallace has the field to himself for city treasurer. At the April election a proposition will be placed on the ballots to settle the wet and dry fight for two years under the Wyllie law reading, "Shall the sale of alcoholic liquors be licensed in the city of Newport Beach?"

Joseph Ferguson and the Collins Commercial Company were granted permission to construct new wharves into Newport Bay at Balboa.

An ordinance prohibiting gambling except shaking dice or playing cards for cigars or merchandise was passed. One hundred dollars was appropriated by the trustees for advertising at the Pacific Land and Products Show.

FREE GOLD IN PAVING OF PRESCOTT, ARIZ.

Gravel Wash Used to Pave the Streets of Arizona City As-says 30 Cents Per Yard

PRESCOTT, Ariz., March 8.—The city of Prescott has been using a gravel wash from an unopened street in the south part of town for capping the main streets, and this capping which is an excellent substitute for paving, was discovered by City Clerk J. H. Robinson yesterday, to be rich in free gold, assaying, he reports, on an average of 30 cents a yard. The capping has been put on several thousand feet of street, and it is proposed to continue the work, unless some one devises a means of saving the gold, which is not considered practicable without hydraulic machinery.

Considerable speculation is indulged in by the wise ones as to the possibility of locating the private lots of individuals as placer ground.

TAFT TALKS GOSPEL "FULL DINNER PAIL"

ABOARD TAFT SPECIAL, CANTON, Ohio, March 8.—En route to Toledo President Taft addressed an audience of a thousand people at Alliance, Ohio. He said:

"Assuming that everyone is obeying the law, prosperity and business are the things next in importance. Agitation is creating a lack of confidence among those having capital invested for the people's good. Therefore what we want is a quiet confidence which makes everyone look after his own business, and put money into it as fast as possible.

"Jobs will be plentiful, wages will rise, and we will have money to buy shoes for the children. Those liking comfort may enjoy it. It is wise that we do not cultivate hostilities between classes and between persons in a similar situation. It is wise that we should have confidence in each other, because we are all in the same boat."

TAFT TO ANSWER THE COLONEL'S COLUMBUS SPEECH

TAFT MANAGER REFUSES POPULAR PRIMARIES

WASHINGTON, March 8.—The Taft managers last night, still endeavoring to equivocate and still trying to conceal their real motive, placed themselves on record as opposed to allowing the people to have a voice in the selection of a president. Director McKinley's reply to Senator Dixon's proposal to submit the candidacies of Taft and Roosevelt to popular primaries shows that the Taft managers are determined on an open, avowed, desperate campaign to suppress any possible expression of the people's wish.

"I do not favor changes in the rules of the game while the game is in progress," is the final word of Taft's campaign manager.

Fashions in Tombstones

"There are fashions in tombstones, just the same as in hats and clothes," said a monument worker, "and even if they don't change quite as often we have to keep up with them. A few years ago broken columns were all the go, and we had our hands full executing such orders. Then came the St. Andrew's cross. It is shaped like an X, and most of our orders ran to that sort of cross.

"Now the Celtic cross is in vogue, and it is quite the proper thing to have put on your monument. They offer a considerable field for decoration and traceries, but I suppose they will have their run and something new will come in. An experienced tombstone maker can tell approximately when a monument was put up without looking at the date on it, if he has kept up with the fashions."

PLAYGROUNDS TO BE SUBJECT

University of California Takes Up Valuable Study—College Affairs

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, March 4.—To co-operate with the great popular movement which is seeking to provide public playgrounds for the children in every city and town, the University of California has just announced special courses in playground work and physical education for the next summer session, at Berkeley from June 24 to August 3.

The object is to train men and women to take charge of the public playgrounds which are springing up everywhere, to train teachers of physical education, and to acquaint teachers, principals, and school authorities with the best ways of conducting gymnasiums and school playgrounds.

In one summer session much inspiration and suggestion can be obtained, and much insight into modern methods in playground work and gymnasium work, while by attendance upon three summer sessions a professional training can be obtained. Similar courses offered last summer by the university were enthusiastically attended. Of the 1950 students in the summer session for 1911, over 600 were enrolled for playground work and physical education.

In charge next summer will be Everett C. Beach, M. D., director of physical education in Los Angeles High School. With him will be associated Dr. William H. Anderson of New Haven, Conn., director of the Yale University gymnasium; Professor Clark W. Hetherington, formerly professor of physical education in the University of Missouri, who now, as director of the Joseph Fels endowment in play and educational athletics, devotes himself to advancing the playground movement and to work for improving the standards of athletic sports and physical education throughout the country, and ten other experts in physical education and playground work.

Among the courses offered will be instruction in the organization of playgrounds, in elementary and advanced gymnastics, in anatomy, physiology, hygiene diagnosis, first aid to the injured; in therapeutic gymnastics, and the health supervision of schools; in track and field athletics, in aesthetic gymnastics, and in folk dancing—the national dances of the European countries, and a course for mothers, in the meaning of play, hygiene of the nursery, and the care of the child in cases of accident. There will be a course in military instruction, courses in gymnasium exercise; a course for those who wish to learn to swim, a course for the training of swimming instructors, and varied courses in the general administration of public playgrounds. In these courses, the students will use as a laboratory a children's playground which will be maintained on the university campus throughout the summer. Here many hundreds of Berkeley children will be found playing every day.

The sudden rise of the playground movement is one of the most striking and encouraging of recent social phenomena. The country woke up one day to find with the growth of congested towns and cities, full of flats and apartment houses, children no longer had the old-time opportunities for healthful outdoor play but were forced to play in the streets, in cluttered vacant lots, in yards and places where the opportunities for mischief, evil, or harm, were great. Then the movement began for the establishment everywhere of municipal playgrounds. Los Angeles now has eight such public playgrounds, with an additional seven in summer; Seattle has twenty-three; Oakland has seven; Fresno has seven; San Francisco lingers behind, with only four supervised playgrounds but with three other supervised playgrounds soon to be established, while Portland is about to vote on a proposed bond issue of $500,000 for the purchase of playgrounds for the children. Oakland's first annual appropriation for playground work was $9000, the next year the city provided $12,000, and the community was so delighted with the success of the playgrounds that this year's maintenance budget for playgrounds is $40,000.

There is now scarcely a town in California with more than 25,000 population which has not at least one supervised playground. Not only large cities but small towns as well profit by the establishment of playgrounds. Their starting in a community means instantly a marked permanent decline in the number of arrests of children for mischief, petty crime, or other juvenile delinquency.

Their establishment means improvement in health, happiness, good scholarship in the schools, and general welfare. It is essential, however, that a playground should be under proper supervision, since the unsupervised playground may prove a source of quite as much harm as good. Moreover, a community of much size needs not one playground but many, since experience shows that a playground is of small service to children who live more than half a mile distant. The rapid growth of the movement and the consequent lack of an adequate supply of men and women trained to supervise playground work, makes the offering of university training courses particularly a public need.

In this playground movement the university is co-operating with the Playground and Recreation Association of America, which maintains offices in San Francisco in charge of Mr. L. H. Weir, 1058 Phelan Building, San Francisco, Field Secretary for the Pacific Coast. The association advises communities, school authorities, etc., as to how to organize and conduct their playground systems to the best advantage, and sends out lecturers, disseminates literature on the subject, etc.

One novel feature of this summer session work at Berkeley will be a course in the "Social Center" movement—a movement which recognizes that recreation and opportunities for self-improvement are needed just as much by grown people as by children, and which seeks to bring it about that the country and city schools shall not be locked up and left idle when school is out, but shall be used as club-houses, lecture halls, and social centers for the whole community; which seeks to bring it about that lecture courses, and night classes for adults, club meetings, and use of the parks for athletic sports and outdoor games for all ages shall be available for young and old the year around, that thus the community may promote its own health, intelligence, and zest of life.

REAPING BENEFIT

From the Experience of Santa Ana People

—We are fortunate indeed to be able to profit by the experience of our neighbors. The public utterances of Santa Ana residents on the following subject will interest and benefit thousands of our readers. Read this statement. No better proof can be had.

F. L. Sexton, 1129 West Second St., Santa Ana, Calif., says: "Off and on I was troubled by a dull pain in the small of my back and I believed that the annoyance was caused by weak kidneys. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills highly recommended and procured a supply at Dean's Drug Store. Relief soon followed their use and as I continued taking them, great benefit was derived. Another member of my family has also found splendid results through the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. They proved as effective in relieving backache in that case as in mine."

Chinese River Dwellers
About 200,000 people live in boats on the river at Canton and 50,000 Hongkong. It is this custom which makes it possible for such losses of life to occur in typhoons.

Sparkling Mead
Sparkling mead is made by boiling fourteen pounds of honey in six gallons of water for half an hour, breaking into it four eggs, then stir into this a half ounce each of cinnamon, cloves, mace and bruised ginger, and small bunches of marjoram, balm and sweetbrier; boil a quarter of an hour longer and pour out to cool. Then toast a large slice of brown bread, spread it over with fresh yeast, and put it into the liquor. Let it ferment for a day, and then put it into a cask, but keep it open until the fermentation is complete. Then cork the cask tightly. This may be bottled in a month, and if bottles are used which have not the patent spring stoppers the corks must be securely tied.

You insure your Life - Why not insure your Health by using Cottolene?

It isn't the quantity of food you eat, but that portion of it that digests that brings health and strength.

Lard-soaked food never has been, never can be digestible and nourishing, because of the hog fat it contains.

Cottolene is far more healthful than lard because Cottolene is a vegetable product, makes food rich without being greasy, and can easily be digested by the stomach of a child.

They say the way to a man's heart is through his stomach. People who have used and are using Cottolene for all shortening and frying purposes say that the way to health is through the use of Cottolene.

Cottolene is the most economical shortening, because it goes one-third farther than butter or lard.

THAT SEVENTEENTH STREET BRIDGE

Inquiry among business men and citizens generally, both in Santa Ana and other parts of the county, confirms the Register's judgment that the Seventeenth street bridge ought to be built by the county, and ought to be built this year.

The Board of Supervisors decided that the necessary funds, estimated at from $1800 to $2000, were not available, but boards of supervisors have been known to find money in larger amounts than that when at first thought it seemed not to be available.

Some people are inquiring in this connection how it is that the supervisors can talk and think of spending, without a bond issue, ten times $1800 or more for a county farm if so small a sum as is needed for the Seventeenth street bridge is not available. This seemingly pertinent inquiry is based upon newspaper reports that the supervisors, in planning for a county farm and hospital, hope to buy the farm with money from the general fund of the county treasury and issue bonds for the hospital.

We heartily concur in the judgment of the supervisors that the purchase of a county farm ought not to be longer delayed, and it may be that they regard the amount of money necessary for that purpose as already dedicated thereto. But it would seem that the great resources of Orange County and the business ability of the board of supervisors ought to be equal to the task of financing the building of a much needed bridge at a cost of only $1800 to $2000.

The Register joins a large number of citizens in the sincere hope that the "county fathers" will reconsider their action in this matter and build the bridge, or at least, if the bridge must be built by subscription, it is sincerely to be hoped that a liberal subscription will be made by the county, and that the city of Santa Ana will chip in big.

This subscription business, in a matter of this kind, is all wrong. The proposed bridge would be a benefit, more or less directly or indirectly, to every taxpayer in the county, and it ought to be paid for, as nearly as the law will allow, by general taxation. Certainly the people of Berydale and others who need and would use the bridge are as much entitled to get something for their tax money as are the people who use the Fifth street bridge or the Chapman avenue bridge or any other bridge or road in the county.

We are not objecting to the subscription proposition on behalf of the long-suffering and much-imposed-upon merchants of Santa Ana—though in all conscience that would be amply justifiable ground for objections,—but we are objecting on the ground that the principle is wrong, both economically and civically speaking.

If the bridge can't be had in any other way than by subscription then by all means let the subscription plan be carried out and the Register stands ready and willing to subscribe its fair share of the amount needed.

But we repeat with emphasis that this subscription business is all wrong. Assess ALL property at its ACTUAL value and then levy a tax rate high enough to provide for the expenses of the county and such necessary public improvements as are not large enough to warrant a bond issue.

UNDER WHICH BANNER?

The Register hopes to see Roosevelt Clubs and Taft Clubs organized in every precinct of Orange County—unless there should be some precincts in which there are not enough Taft republicans to furnish officers for a club. Of course we hope to see the Roosevelt Clubs more populous and active and effective. But we want to see the Taft Clubs develop their full strength and make a strong campaign. With clubs of both kinds active every voter will have an opportunity, and it will be the duty of every voter, to align himself with the Taft or Roosevelt forces. Thus only can a healthy political condition be maintained and the true test applied to the respective principles for which the respective candidates stand.

Both the Roosevelt and Taft clubs are in process of organization in Redlands, and in advising all republicans to join one or the other of these clubs the Redlands Facts says:

The issue is a clear one, for the two men stand for widely diverging policies. The language of both principals and representatives is daily widening the breach between them and their followers. Despite this, however, there is no reason why—Republicans should be anything else than good friends, entertaining the highest respect for their opponents. Whatever may be the lines of cleavage elsewhere, it stands the Republicans of this congressional district to keep themselves well in hand, not allowing personalities to separate themselves so that a united front will be impossible when the big fight shall come later on the tariffs which now protect our citrus fruits. We are all neighbors, and the facts freely conceded to those who follow Mr. Taft the same patriotic principles and aims we claim for those who have taken up the standard of Colonel Roosevelt. The mere organization of clubs is in itself a patriotic duty, and the signature of a membership roll is a declaration of principles. This is every man's privilege—every man's duty—and he should not be vilified by the other side for taking a stand, but rather commended. Men do not all think alike; men are different in ideas and in temperaments. Business affiliations cause a man to look at politics oftentimes from a standpoint altogether different from that of a friend whose affiliations are of another class. But the great point is that all men should join some organization of the kind and take an active part in the political work of the day; show their interest at least to the extent of joining a club and thereby express a preference for a man and the principles he stands for.

The Fresno Republican calls attention to one phase of the primary method of choosing candidates, saying that those whose thinking still follows habits acquired under the old convention system, sometimes deprecate having a campaign within the party, before the nomination, for fear such a campaign may make it more difficult to unite the party forces on the nominee afterward. Whether this danger is real or imaginary is no longer a practical question. Whatever the consequences, if the people are to do the nominating, at primary polls, there must of necessity be a campaign and an open line-up before that primary. Under the convention system, the candidates are sometimes "patched up" by the leaders, without involving the rank and file. The consequences engendered affected only a few individuals, and these the ones most involved in the rules of the game and the best trained to take their medicine under those rules. If we want that condition now, the only way to get it is to go back to the convention system. For better or for worse, the direct primary involves an open campaign within the party. There is no other way to conduct it. And since in California the faction which theoretically professes the convention system would have had no chance under that system this year, the new system with all its consequences, must be welcomed as well as accepted by everybody for at least this time.

THE GOVERNOR SAYS

"The present political struggle," said Governor Johnson, "from the standpoint of those who have been working with a fixed purpose in California, and who firmly believe in that for which they have been struggling, is the most important in recent years. The idea prevalent in the West and which is now gripping even the East, is that economic reform must really be accomplished through the people themselves. That the people may accomplish economic reforms it is necessary that they have the requisite means. These means can be supplied only by political reform, and the theory upon which the state of California has proceeded in the past fourteen months is to give the people the weapons, the means, the political reforms by which industrial and economic reforms may be wrought.

"Therefore, in California we have the initiative, the referendum, the recall, the direct primary, the election of United States Senators by the people.

"The nation must control its 'big business,' it must aid in the equal distribution of the product of labor, it must afford more equal opportunity for all. In short, it must recognize humanity and humanity's rights and must make wealth the servant rather than the master.

"These things progressive Republicans have set themselves to do. At these things the reactionary scoffs. The progressive believes in the people and the right of the people to determine for themselves the sort of government they wish. The reactionary does not believe in the people, distrusts and suspects their ability and intelligence and would himself wield the power that alone belongs to them.

"For the first time in the nation's history the question is clearly presented and each side has its leader and the words of neither can be misunderstood.

"Mr. Roosevelt is the champion of the progressive cause, Mr. Taft of the reactionary. The battle of the nation will be simply a repetition of that which we had in California, if the people will be permitted the power of expression. Here the people have that right.

"This power and right are denied, wherever the Taft men are in the ascendancy. It's the age-long struggle; but the onward march of democracy will not be stayed and the people ultimately will triumph."

CATCHING UP WITH ROOSEVELT

By JUDSON C. WELLIVER in Mnusey's Magazine

FEDERAL INSPECTION OF MEATS.

Whenever Roosevelt set about to regulate business he was accused of malicious purpose to injure business. As this was true in the case of railroad-rate regulation, so it was in that of pure-food legislation, which was attacked on the ground that it would work havoc to a great industry. It was true, likewise, when Roosevelt in 1908 wrote a special message on the conditions in the great meat-packing establishments, and demanded federal inspection of meats.

The outcry which ignorance and prejudice raised in opposition was echoed from end to end of the country. At first there was flat denial of the conditions he had described. Then an avalanche of letters and telegrams protested that the charges were certain to ruin both the domestic and the foreign trade in meats. Country merchants, bankers, agricultural societies, live-stock associations, boards of trade, chambers of commerce, and individuals by the thousands—every interest that could be reached and aroused—protested against the policy which the President had demanded.

He then sent experts to the packing centers to ascertain the facts. Their reports convinced the public of the necessity for bettering the existing conditions.

As a result of this investigation, Senator Beveridge, of Indiana, presented an amendment for inspecting and labeling meats, which was adopted by the Senate without debate. But in the House it met a determined opposition. The reactionary Cannon machine, headed by Cannon, William Lorimer, reputedly a special representative of "big business," and James W. Wadsworth, chairman of the House committee on agriculture, undertook first to prevent the legislation, and then to make it as mild as possible. Practically everybody pretended to favor legislation; but the Cannon-Wadsworth ring was determined to make it weak and ineffective.

So the bill was sent to the House

Employers Are Exempt From The Roseberry Compensation Provision

A mistaken idea has gained wide acceptance that the compensation amendment to the constitution of California, voted for by the people last October, and adopted by a huge majority, made the "compensation" provisions of the Roseberry Liability Law compulsory upon all employers.

This idea has gained especial credence among farmers of California and they feel that they are now made responsible for all injuries to their employees through accident whether or not they, themselves, or any of their employees, were blame-worthy for such accident.

Such is not the fact. The adoption of Amendment 10 merely gave the legislature power to make such a law compulsory, but that power has not been exercised and is not likely to be until the people of the state have had opportunity to become thoroughly acquainted with the statute and the principle of "compensation" as applied to instances of personal injury through accident.

The "compensation" provisions of the Roseberry Liability Law are "elective" and until an employer notifies the Industrial Accident Board that he desires to do business under "compensation" neither he nor his employees are under the compensation provisions of said law. Those provisions of the law are to them as though they did not exist.

But all of the employers of labor in California who have not "elected" to accept the "compensation" provisions of the Roseberry act are under the law of liability for damages resulting from negligence. Just as they have been ever since California came into the possession of the United States of America, save that the old common-law defenses of "assumption of risk" and "fellow servant" have been abolished and the rule of "contributory negligence" has been somewhat modified. In short, the liability of an employer not under "compensation" to an employee injured by accident is, under the amended law, almost exactly identical with the liability of such employer to any citizen not in his employ. The case still goes to a court for adjustment and not to the Industrial Accident Board. Jury rights are preserved and the measure of liability will be the will of the jury and the sanction of the court rather than a liability limited in amount by statutory provisions as would be the case under "compensation," if elected. This explanation is made in the interests of a mooted issue heretofore much confused through misinformation.

INDUSTRIAL ACCIDENT BOARD.

Our Washington Letter

WASHINGTON, March 13.—To buck over the traces of time-honored congressional precedents after six years' patient submission and jump into the limelight as a new national character is the unique development of Representative Frank Clark (Dem. Fla.).

And he is still untamed, protesting against alleged abuses of the House privileges by his colleagues, and kicking up a rumpus generally.

Clark has the distinction of having one of the shortest personal sketches in the Congressional Directory—and he wrote it himself. He used just thirteen words to tell the public of his claims to distinction, giving his home, Gainesville, Fla., and the mere fact of serving from the fifty-ninth Congress.

The Palmetto state representative browsed obscurely in the House pastures for three terms. But now he is a military leader, feared by some and honored by many congressmen. He is feared for choking off congressmen who wish to fill the Congressional Record with "phony" speeches that were never spoken, under the "leave to print" privilege. Clark is the watchdog of the Record. He protests against printing a word in the Record that is not actually spoken in the House, depriving members of their ancient privilege of printing long speeches for home consumption. Many wait until Clark is absent before "putting over" a speech by leave to print, fearing the "I object" or the Florida.

Five feet seven inches of belligerency is Clark. His bulky broad shoulders are in the thick of every fray. He has snappy black eyes, sunk deep under bushy eyebrows, and is crowned by a thick, unruly shock of black hair, slightly streaked with gray. He is the typical southern statesman, too, in his black Prince Albert suit, low collar and black string tie.

Just now Clark is in the limelight for his expose of the alleged land frauds in the Florida Everglades. Clark also is famous for his organization of the "Tell Us How to Vote" Club, by sarcastically suggesting that all Democrats seek advice on every subject from William J. Bryan. A message from Bryan on the steel tariff, advising the Democratic representatives, caused Clark to attack the Peerless leader. Now the club has formally organized and its members wear buttons in derision of Bryan.

Reading of George Washington's farewell address in the House on Washington's Birthday is another distinction of Clark. He suggested reading of the document, declaring former Republican Houses had refused to thus honor the Father of His Country. Speaker Clark ordered the Florida man to read it, and for an hour, until he was hoarse, Clark read the historic paper.

IN THE HOME CIRCLE

Philosophers and poets are alike in the verdict that the safety and perpetuity of any nation lies in the homes of its people.

The girl with a sweet little voice need not feel discouraged because she has no opportunity to sing in grand opera. She can give great pleasure by being a songbird in the home nest.

The real business of life is the making of a happy home. When you come to sift the whole chaff of existence, everything goes to the wind but the happiness we have had at home.

There are six secular nights in each week. Out of the six some men spend one at home and five at lodge, while others spend five at home and one at lodge. In which class shall we register your name?

A woman who fails in her home fails in all. Home is woman's realm, given into her hands to regulate, govern and beautify. If she fails here she may look in vain for another kingdom; for she has failed in the only spot where she could have ultimately succeeded.

To make a boy into a pure man, a mother must do more than pray. She must live with him in the sense of comrade and closest friend. She must stand by him in time of temptation as the pilot sticks to the wheel when rapids are around. She must never desert him to go off to superintend outside duties any more than the engineer deserts his post and goes into a baggage car to read up engineering when his train is pounding across the country at forty miles an hour.

The world is full of women who can amuse the ordinary man. Can sing, dance or recite for him; can paint, write or decorate in a manner most pleasing, but the poor man often goes begging for a woman who can sew on buttons or mend his clothes; who can cook his food with economy and flavor it to his taste.

Tell me, ye winged winds that around my pathway roar, do ye not know some quiet spot where wives clean house no more.

Many of us miss the joys that might be ours by keeping our eyes fixed on those of other people. No one can enjoy his own opportunities for happiness while he is envious of another's. We lose a great deal of the joy of living by not cheerfully accepting the small pleasures that come to us every day.

The children whose horizon is a brick wall, who must play on cobble stones and go swimming in the canal and be chased by the police, if they do not grow up to be ideal citizens, shall we of Lolier memories sit in judgment upon them? Shall we not remember the weight they carry in the race of life and be thankful we live in this beautiful country of ours.

Little arms encircling the neck will make the heart light, over which no those she knows not of.

Thoughts for the Orchardist

(From the Covina Argus)

How many of you keep the orchard ground bare, and continue to cultivate all summer? Did you ever stop to think that every time the cultivator turns up one of its little ridges of earth, it presents a new surface to the blazing summer sun, and that the sun immediately begins to draw out the vitality of the humus? How about the volatile fertilizers, like nitrogen—what becomes of it when brought to a sun-glaring surface? It escapes in the air. What about the bacteria, if any remains in the surface soil? Bacteria dies when exposed to the sun, or when not sufficiently covered and moistened.

How will you accept the idea that summer cultivating is wrong? We learn as we go along, and old and established customs pass away. Perhaps the summer cultivating is one of them. And if it is true that summer cultivating is wrong, it must be very wrong, and it must be that the rancher is losing very materially from following this practice.

Summer in the San Gabriel valley is a time of fierce heat. The amount of nitrogen that goes up in the heat-waves of a hot afternoon cannot be estimated. This is prevented by a system of mulching, and the rancher who covers his land with a thick mulch, which retains the moisture of irrigation, is saving the humus of his soil, and adding to it; he is forming an admirable and practically the only culture bed for the beneficial bacteria, and he is holding the volatile nitrogen in the soil. Why not plant your cover crops in the summer, and cultivate in the winter, when the tree is nearer to being dormant? One reason why cover crops have not been planted in the summer has been because the rancher thought he could not irrigate with a cover crop on the land. This is not so, as many of our neighbors are demonstrating.

Compare these ideas with your own, and discard whatever you wish. There may be something in this article worthy of thinking over.

PARENT-TEACHERS

Excellent Program Given High School Association Meeting Yesterday Afternoon

The Monthly High School Parent-Teachers' Association yesterday held its monthly meeting at the Commercial High School building. About thirty were in attendance and Mrs. Z. B. West, president of the association, was in the chair. After routine business and a piano solo by Miss Willa Clevenger an excellent program was heard.

Miss Sedalia Cubison read a most excellent paper on "Efficiency in High School Work," prefacing her paper with the remark that it was prepared to evoke discussion by those present, not to present her own views. She quoted from many educators, as to the various reasons why high school work is not always efficient, stating that these reasons did not in any way reflect on the teaching in the high school, but upon the pupils themselves, and their attitude toward their work. She spoke of the graduates who had gone out from this high school and said "none have failed and almost everyone had or is making good in the world."

Mrs. John Swanner spoke on "Social Functions in the High School." Among the benefits derived, she called attention to the "social needs," which exist in every life, especially true in youth; the opportunity of being better acquainted with one another and the teachers; ease of manner which comes only through social intercourse; the democratic spirit, where all meet on an equality and the forming of life-long friendship so often made in school life.

She said some had made the objection that there were too many social functions in the high school, but if they were to investigate and take into consideration the many classes they would find no pupil was overdoing the social side of high school life.

Mrs. McElree was to have spoken on the "Objectable Side of High School Social Life," but stated that she had investigated and inquired and had not been able to find anything to object to.

Mr. Clayton of the high school faculty read a brief paper on "The School Text Books Question in California," pertaining to the text books for the grammar school. He showed the graft, as it exists in the state printing office. Pertinent to the situation, Prof. Clayton said: "This paper was prepared and read to you because this is a live political question and must be settled by the ballot, and you mothers now have equal duties with the fathers in that direction."

A few questions were asked, but the only one provoking much discussion was "Do Teachers and Parents Trust Children Too Little or Too Much?"

The next meeting will be an evening meeting so the fathers can attend and will be held April 3 with Mrs. J. T. Raitt, Mrs. E. P. Stafford and Miss Nellie Thompson as the program committee.

At the Conservatory

Tomorrow afternoon, instead of the usual pupils' recital at the Orange County Conservatory of Music, there will be a talk on "The Piano—Its Construction and Care," by Mr. Oliver Remsburg, the well-known musician and piano man. The parents of pupils, the students, and all who are interested in Mr. Remsburg's subject, are invited to be present.

Don't fail to come to the Conservatory tomorrow, at 4:30 o'clock, to hear Mr. Remsburg's talk on "Pianos, Their Construction and Care." In this country, by reason of its sudden changes of temperature and atmospheric conditions, pianos are submitted to peculiar tests of endurance that they do not receive in all places. Come and learn something about the anatomy and hygiene of your instrument, or the one you are going to buy. It's free, so come with your friends.

SENSIBLE S. A. H. S. GIRLS

At a recent meeting of the girls of the June graduating class of the Santa Ana High School, the question of dress for the important occasion of graduation was discussed.

The sweet girl graduates decided that "beauty needs no adornment." Samples of dainty marquisette were presented and it was found that the girls could dress in simplicity for $5. The class shows its originality in this decision, as it has throughout the high school course.

The example of the Santa Ana High School girls is commended to all sweet girl graduates to be.

Bank Opening Tomorrow

Tomorrow afternoon the Orange County Savings Bank will be at home to the public in its handsome new quarters at 116-118 West Fourth street. Not only those already its patrons, but the public in general, is invited to be present and view the beautiful rooms wherein the bank hopes to continue and increase prosperity.

From 2 to 5:30 p. m. C. F. J. Krieger's orchestra will render musical selections, and in the evening from 7 to 9 o'clock, a program of music will be given by Mr. Clarence A. Gustlin, pianist, and Miss Lalla B. Fagge, violinist.

Mr. Gustlin's numbers will include Gavotte (Bach), Op. 70, No. 1, Etude, Op. 25, No. 2, Preludes, No. 10-11 (Chopin); Frühlingsrauschen (Sindling); Spinning Song (Mendelssohn); and Minuet (Schubert); Intermezzo (Leshetzky); Minuet (Paderewski).

Miss Fagge will play the following numbers: Zigeunerweisen (Sarasate); Meditation (Massenet); Humoresque (Dvorak); Caprice (Ogarew).

Parental Responsibilities

By agreement the pastors of the churches forming the Ministerial Association of the city will preach next Sunday on the "Responsibilities of Parents." This action was reached at a recent meeting, the subject being considered one of timely importance.

Southern California residents of Livingston County, Illinois, are invited to attend the annual Livingston picnic at Eastlake Park, Los Angeles, March 16. ECONOMICS LUNCHEON

Wonders in Cookery Achieved for Fifteen Cents by the Amphion Circle

The Amphion Circle, originally organized to raise funds for the handsome pipe organ that graces the Congregational church of this city, having long ago achieved its purpose, has now turned its attention to other lines of work. Part of its regular program is Household Economics, the study of which is taken up at alternate meetings. At the Economics meetings, a demonstration of excellent results for small expenditure is made. Yesterday the demonstration was in the way of a luncheon that cost each member fifteen cents, and no more.

Mrs. E. B. Trago, at whose pretty home the luncheon was served, Mrs. R. R. Miles, Mrs. Hoyt Hall, Miss Ada O'Brien and Miss Marie Delong were the hostesses. Instead of using one long table for the one-thirty o'clock repast, as usual, four smaller tables were utilized for the twenty-four guests. Centerpieces of pink sweet peas and ferns graced the tables, and pink roses with ferns were used in the house decorations.

Place cards were hand-painted with sweet-pea design. In addition to the members of the club, Mrs. W. S. Peak and Miss Cloyes were guests of the hostesses.

The menu follows:
Sliced Veal, Scalloped Potatoes, Beaten Biscuits, Apple Jelly, Spiced Apricots, Pops in Gelatin, Cheese Straws, Pineapple, Tapioca Pudding, Ice Cream, Mocha Cake, Coffee, After Dinner Mints.

The Silo for Dairymen

This is the time of the year when the dairymen of dairy farmer who owns a silo likes to talk about silage. Good silage comes as near being June pasture in January as any feed with which the dairyman is familiar. Its succulent or juicy nature especially fits it for stimulating the milk flow and keeping the cow in vigorous health.

Probably the most important rule in the profitable dairy is to keep the cow's milk flowing freely as possible after the flow has once been started by parturition or calf birth. To do this demands right feeding and good care. Silage is a cheap feed to cut up, and valuable to use. It is grown on the farm. This is a fact of importance in this day of high-priced mill feeds.

Labrador's Short Summer

"How brief is the summer on the highlands of Labrador!" says Sesseth Pritchard in the Wide World Magazine. "Snow does not melt till July; then with a rush midsummer comes. Grasses and leaves grow almost visibly, the wild cotton soon flings out its little white pennons, millions of berries ripen on the ground, the loon cries, the ptarmigan calls, and you may even see a butterfly balancing in the warm wind. But then also awakens the countless army of hunchbacks, lean and gray mosquitoes, piping blithely for blood. So summer reigns. Then suddenly one day, at the end of August, after the sun has sunk behind the barren crags through the balmy warmth of evening, one may wake up to find everything transfigured and the first snow of another season already falling."

His Economy

The children in the Blank family were taught habits of neatness at the table by being compelled to pay a fine of 1 cent for every spot they put on the tablecloth. One day Harold, a boy of seven years, was discovered rubbing the overhanging part of the cloth between his fingers, and, when taken to task for it, he said: "Why, Mummy, I was just trying to rub two spots into one!"—Woman's Home Companion.

Track Meet Tomorrow

The county high school track meet will be held on the Lincoln school grounds here tomorrow at 1:30 o'clock.

LISZT'S CONTRIBUTION TO ART

Writer in Scribner's Magazine Declares It to Be the Extremest Element in Music

This wandering piano player of Hungarian-Austrian blood, a genuine cosmopolitan, taught music a new charm, the charm of the unexpected, of the improvised. The freedom of Beethoven in his later works and of Chopin in all his music became the principal factor in the style of Liszt. Music must have the shape of an improvisation.

In the Hungarian rhapsodies, the majority of which begin in a mosque and always end in a tavern, are the extremes of his system. His orchestral and vocal works, the two symphonies, the masses and oratorios and symphonic poems, are full of dignity, poetic feeling, religious spirit, and a largeness of accent and manner. Yet the gypsy glance and gypsy voice lurk behind many a plous or pompous bar. Apart from his invention of a new form—or, rather, the condensation and revival of an old one—the symphonic poem, Liszt's greatest contribution to art is the wild, truant, rhapsodical extempore element he infused into modern music; Nature in her most untrammelled moods he interpreted with fidelity. But the drummers in the line of moral gasoline who controlled criticism in Germany refused to see Liszt except as an ex piano virtuoso... a perverter of art.—Scribner's.

Construction of Garage Has Considerable Interest Aroused in the East Fourth Street Announcements

McCORMAC IS MOVING HOUSE TO REAR LOT

The Pace of One New House Per Day is Being Kept up by Santa Ana

North Main street is holding the center of the building stage this week. S. J. Jackman and the other men who are with him in a syndicate have commenced the construction of the new two-story garage building at the southwest corner of Sixth and Main streets, and J. W. McCormac, proprietor of the Orange County Business College, has taken the first steps in the improvement of the property at the southwest corner of Main and Church streets, bought by him last September.

A. C. Black has the contract for the garage building at $12,800. This building will have a frontage on Main of 100 feet and will be 117½ feet deep. Foundations are being made extra strong, cement going in at a proportion of six to one, and will bear a third and fourth story. The owners have a proposition to lease a third story, and the proposition is under consideration.

The West End Garage has leased the entire first floor and 90 by 100 feet of the second floor. On the south side of the second floor will be eight office rooms. The front of the building will be of old gold pressed brick, such as is used in the city hall.

The syndicate has reserved seven feet at the rear of the building for an alley, and has entered into negotiations with the other property owners of the block for an alley running through the block north and south. The Masonic people, those interested in the fire department and Chandler have expressed themselves as very favorable to the project.

Moving Building
House-movers are going to take J. W. McCormac's big two-story house from its position facing Main street, to the rear of the lot and face it on Church street. There are two lots facing Main, and on the Church street corner McCormac will build a residence. Plans have not been drawn as yet. The inside lot is to be reserved for the construction of a business college building at some future time, probably not distant.

Keeping Up Average
The pace set by Santa Ana three months ago of an average of one new house every day is being kept up, indicating that the growth of the city is steady. The builders say that the pace has come to stay, for they have constant inquiries and requests for information and estimates that shows that the growth is going to keep on.

C. M. Jordan has the contract for a new $2500 bungalow and a half house to be built by him for Howard Turner on the second lot east of G. A. Edgar's house on East Chestnut.

Architect Opp has completed plans for a new $2000 residence to be built by Deputy Sheriff George Law on Durant street. Opp has also completed plans for a new 5-room house for R. W. Gillespie of the Pacific Telephone Co., and has called for bids. The house will be built in the 600 block on South Broadway.

BUILDING PERMITS MAKE FINE SHOWING

Orange News: Building permits mounted during the month of February to a figure far above that of the preceding month, when the permits represented a sum of $7,000. For last month buildings totaling a cost of $11,500 were authorized by the city. Of the ten separate permits eight were for dwellings, one a warehouse and the tenth was for a handsome little station being erected by the Southern California Edison Co. on North Atchison street. The list follows:

S. Cal. Edison Co.	$1000
K. E. Watson	250
F. L. Ainsworth	2000
W. P. Smith	2000
J. H. Widdowson	1200
G. W. Gates	2000
E. A. J. Mueller	1500
A. Crawshaw	1250
Union Mercantile Co.	900
Total	$11,500

SALES REPORTED FOR THE LAST MONTH

Mrs. J. B. Cowdy reports the following sales for the last month: A ten-acre walnut ranch belonging to Mrs. Bailey, sold to Mr. Bowman; ten acres of budding walnuts on Mayberry, owned by Mrs. Vandermuelen, to Mrs. Juliette Smith; three acres of valencias on East Walnut, Orange, owned by Mr. Widdowson, to Mr. Lendendorfer; one lot on North Parton to Mr. Bentley, and one lot on South Broadway from Mr. Mitchell to Mr. Gerard.

The rain may have been responsible for it, but whatever it was it is certain that the past week has been a good week in realty matters. The county recorder's office shows a large number of transfers, and the records show an unusually large number of deals being consummated.

Ranch property and city property are in demand, and every part of the county is in on the activity. Here in Santa Ana there has been considerable interest in the East Fourth street announcement and "suggestions." This much is certain, subway or no subway, G. L. Dodds and his associates have been the chief figures in a number of options and sales in that vicinity. It is reported that Fordyce Briggs, who with Mrs. Charlotte Elliott, bought the G. R. Smith walnut orchard between East Fourth and East First streets, has secured a number of options in that vicinity.

C. C. and Walter Collins have purchased twenty acres at Garden Grove from a Pasadena named Flickinger, for $7000, and will set the place to fruit trees.

Ellis Smith has bought the Harris ranch at Tustin.

Mrs. Frank Vandervliet has sold her home at the corner of Orange and Chestnut, and has purchased a bungalow on Orange avenue in the 700 block.

L. L. Vestal has purchased the house at 1207 Spurgeon street from Mrs. Louis Petersen. This property is known as the Harry Tubbs property.

A. H. Pease and Mr. Baxter have each bought a lot in the Wakeham tract and will build soon.

NEW OIL TOWN OF BREA ON THE MAP

Fullerton Tribune: Brea, the new oil town on the Pacific Electric in La Habra valley, is growing steadily, and it is predicted that within a short time will have five hundred or more population. A number of oil well employees are moving to Brea on account of its convenience to the leases of several companies and there is demand for houses for rent that cannot be supplied.

The main streets are now graded and oiled and placed in first class condition. Construction work is going on in the residence portion and the business section. Several houses are nearing completion and new firms will be ready to open for business in a short time.

Bank to Open
The Brea bank will probably be ready for business about the first of next month. Completion of the building is being rushed. When finished it will be one of the most attractive bank homes in the southland. C. R. Thomas is the head of the institution.

A hotel building will be erected in a short time containing not less than 16 rooms. It will be managed by Mrs. Nellie F. Alford, who has opened the Brea cafe and is now feeding about fifty a day. A number of the oil boys are taking meals with Mrs. Alford and transient business is also good. The new hotel will be strictly modern and rates reasonable. Mrs. Alford was formerly in the Maricopa fields and is a popular caterer.

C. P. Griggs has opened his auto garage and has the agency for the Indian motorcycle, a number of which machines he has sold to the oil boys. Mr. Griggs came from Pomona and is well pleased with the outlook for business in his line at Brea. He is equipping the garage with supplies.

Mr. Rudolph, the druggist, is installing a soda fountain to quench the thirst of the dry and is enjoying a good dry business. He intends later to move his family from Santa Monica, where his children are in school.

Stern & Goodman Building
The building of Stern & Goodman is a one story brick structure. It will be completed in a few weeks and Stern & Goodman will put in a large general stock.

Borden & Salverson, the grocers, are doing an increasing business. The Enoch and Miller pool rooms are lively places, especially in the evenings, when the oil boys gather in. Both shops are supplied with a tonorial artist. The Brea Transfer Company building is complete. It will be run by Wm. Carner and Leland Crookwell, who purchased the lively outfit of Boswell of Fullerton.

A Pretty and Inexpensive Bungalow

By the Bungalowcraft Co.
404 Chamber of Commerce, Los Angeles, California

This design of bungalow is always popular as it has a taking exterior and a very convenient room arrangement; moreover, it is of a shape which may be made of almost any desired size and expanded in either width or length. The exterior is all of wood, either weatherboards or shingles will look well and the front gable may be of cement stucco with exposed half timbering if preferred. As recently built in Los Angeles it cost $1250, with pine floors finished and varnished for rugs in the living and dining rooms.

A cellar under the rear half of the house with furnace, using a flue in the fireplace chimney, will add perhaps $300 to the cost, but as a stove can be placed in the dining room this, with the kitchen range and living room fireplace, should heat the whole house in any not too severe climate. The exterior of the house may be either painted or stained and the inside woodwork is to be stained and finished in shellac and wax, except the bedrooms and bathroom, in which the trimming is enameled white or any desired tint. The room arrangement could not well be improved upon and the closet room is ample.

The dining room has a paneled wainscoting with plate shelf and a built-in buffet of pleasing but not expensive design which opens through into the kitchen. There is a cosy seat beside the broad open fireplace, which is an attractive feature. The kitchen is made in full cabinet style with cupboards, closets, bins, cooling closet, etc., all arranged just where they will be handiest.

Complete working plans and specifications for this bungalow, either as shown or reversed, may be had for $10, and it is well to remember when building a home the most economical step that can be taken for both owner and contractor is the purchase of a trustworthy set of plans. All danger of extra charges and extra claims is by this means eliminated—the owner knows from the outset just what to expect and what he is to pay for it, while the contractor knows just what work he must do and the quality of material and workmanship he must furnish. Any inquiries regarding bungalow or bungalow building addressed to The Bungalowcraft Co. at above address will receive prompt and detailed replies without charge.

IS TO BUILD $60,000 HOTEL

Fine Hostelry is to Be Put up by Collins on Balboa Island

BALBOA, March 8.—Probably the most interesting building project in the history of this beach is represented in the plan of W. S. Collins to erect on Balboa island a beautiful tourist hotel of a hundred rooms and costing $60,000 or more. Plans for the structure are now being drawn by architects Dentis & Farwell of Los Angeles.

The fine hostelry projected will look across the bay toward the ocean and will stand alongside the Canal de Venezia, which will be bridged by a concrete span. A retaining wall will be built entirely across the front of the grounds and along the side of the canal. Steps at intervals will lead down to the water's edge and the boat landings.

Architecturally the building will suggest Venetian lines. The exterior will be of cement. The structure in plan will be in the shape of the letter "H," the frontage on the bay being 180 feet, by a depth of 150 feet along the canal. The central portion will be four stories in height, with a solarium and tower constituting practically a fifth story. The main portion of the hotel will have a height of two stories.

Every suite in the hotel will have a private bath and the appointments will be of the most modern type throughout. The dining room will be 40x70 feet in size and handsomely finished. On the first floor will also be a large lobby, private dining rooms, parlors and a billiard room. Every guest room will be an outside room.

The same architects are drawing plans for a two-story brick building to contain stores, a delicatessen establishment, a restaurant and a garage and to stand in the business section of this place, or not far from the Pavilion. The owners are Los Angeles capitalists.

ORANGE RANCH
AT A GOOD PRICE

Orange News: J. N. Cox has purchased a nine-acre ranch on North Cambridge street from Alex R. Graham and has moved his family from Los Angeles to the ranch, which is the third place south of Collins avenue on Cambridge. The price was $10,000 and the deal was handled without an agent.

Mr. Graham recently sold a ranch at the corner of Collins and Tustin to J. B. Mulvey of Los Angeles, who will move his family here about June 1st, this deal also being handled without an agent. Mr. Graham still owns his ranch, Palm Place, at the corner of Collins and Batavia, and will continue to reside there.

the City Impressed With Its Improvements

Mr. Rolla V. Watt, of San Francisco, the Pacific Coast manager of the Royal Insurance Company, was in Santa Ana this week, visiting O. M. Robbins & Son, who represent the Royal here. Mr. Watt first saw Santa Ana in 1886. Since then he has followed local conditions quite closely, and he was particularly impressed with the improvements of the past few years, both in the business and residence districts.

Mr. Watt is a director of the First National Bank of San Francisco, and in looking about the city spoke particularly of the enterprise of local banks in providing themselves and their patrons with such excellent banking offices, any of which would reflect credit upon cities of much larger size.

CASCARETS FOR A SICK, SOUR STOMACH

Gently But Thoroughly Cleanse and Regulate Your Stomach, Liver and Bowels While You Sleep

That awful sourness, belching of acid and foul gases; that pain in the pit of the stomach, the heartburn, nervousness, nausea, bloating after eating, feeling of fullness, dizziness and sick headache, means indigestion; a disordered stomach, which cannot be regulated until you remove the cause. It isn't your stomach's fault. Your stomach is as good as any.

Try Cascarets; they cure indigestion, because they immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the decomposed waste matter and poison from the intestines and bowels. Then your stomach trouble is ended forever. A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box from any drug store will keep your entire family feeling good for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.

University Is Gathering Facts of Early History

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, 4.—The Native Sons have joined forces with the University of California to gather together the precious records of the discovery, exploration, and development of California. The order has provided funds for the next university year for three fellowships in California and Pacific coast history. Two fellows will go up and down the state for conference with the pioneers and other old residents, seeking everywhere material, printed, manuscript, or word of mouth, which may throw light on past events on the Pacific coast. The third fellow will be stationed in Spain.

There is already at work in Spain, gathering unpublished records of the early days of California and the Southwest, Mr. L. P. Briggs, who was sent to Europe last summer on a fellowship provided by the Native Sons, to delve in the archives of the Indies, at Seville; in the records of the admiralty office, at Madrid, and among other archives of state and church, in various Spanish cities.

From documents, from old maps and charts, from unpublished manuscript material, the historians are learning what the history of California really has been, as distinguished from what tradition says. There are a quarter of a million documents and 50,000 books in the Bancroft Library of Pacific coast history owned by the University of California. The new fellows, with the powerful co-operation of the Native Sons, are to aid toward enriching this vast collection of primary historical material, by arousing the interest of old residents of the state in old letters, old pictures, old newspaper files, and the personal narratives of themselves or of their fathers. Particularly it is desired to add to the library letters, newspapers and family papers, whether in English or in Spanish, of the period before the Civil War. Such material is certain of the best possible care, for it will be housed in the new fire-proof university library. There it will be of the widest possible usefulness, since Berkeley is becoming one of the most active centers of historical research in America. There are today over forty students at work in the Bancroft Library. Of these, eleven are men who are candidates for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy in California history.

Already much new light has been thrown upon the earliest beginnings of California history by the researches and the publications of the Academy of Pacific History. From manuscripts in the possession of the university have been published the official account of the Portola Expedition of 1769-1770, which discovered San Francisco Bay. Save for Sir Francis Drake's sailors, and the wrecked crew of the San Agustin, white men never before had set foot on the mainland of California. Other publications are the narrative, and separately, the diary, of Miguel Costanzo of the Portola party, and a diary of Vincente Villa in which he recorded day by day the experiences of the half of the Portola expedition which came by sea, skirting the California coast.

From the University Press, too, has come the diary of Pedro Fages, who in 1770 crossed over from Monterey and skirted San Francisco Bay. He was the first white man to visit the site of the present cities of Oakland and Berkeley, the portion of Berkeley now known as Northbrae being his "farthest north." Just from the University Press is an account of an exploring expedition from San Francisco up the Sacramento and San Joaquin Rivers, made in 1817 by Fray Narcisco Duran.

In February the university will print, from manuscript, the adventurous story of the expedition led by Pedro Font from Mexico to California by way of Sonora, the Gila River and San Diego, and thence, by way of the then already established missions of San Gabriel, San Diego, San Luis Obispo, San Antonio, and Monterey, to San Francisco, where the 236 priests, soldiers and civilians of the expedition, after this long overland march from Mexico with all their cattle and household goods, established the Mission Dolores and the Presidio, and so founded the city of San Francisco.

Among other documents printed have been the original membership rolls of the first Vigilance Committee, of 1851, and the diary in which Patrick Breen tells the tragic story of the Donner party, snowed in the Sierras, and brought to the last extremities of cold and starvation. Publications in other fields have been a history of the San Francisco clearing house certificates of 1907-08 and an account of the United States consulate in California.

The publication of these priceless old records of the discovery, exploration, and development of California has been provided for by the Academy of Pacific Coast History, supported for the most part through the generosity of a council, each of whose members has for some years past contributed his quota for this work. The present members of the council are Senator Thomas R. Bard, Mrs. Phoebe Apperson Hearst, Messrs. William B. Bourn, William H. Crocker, Guy C. Earl, Joseph D. Grant, William F. Herrin, Richard M. Hotaling, Livingston Jenks, James K. Moffitt, Frederick W. Sharon, and Rudolph J. Taussig. President Wheeler is ex-officio a member of the council; Professor Henry Morse Stephens, its secretary, and Professor Frederick J. Teggart, curator and editor of the publications of the academy.

Often people do not realize the future interest and historical importance of accumulations of old letters and newspapers, stored away accumulating dust in an attic. It is through the co-operation of the citizens of California in adding to the University's historical collections

Two Able Instructors In the Orange County Conservatory of Music

MISS DODLEY PAGE

For a long time a pupil of Mr. Gustlin, there is none among his pupils more capable of representing his methods and ideals than Miss Dudley Page.

The great success with which her work as a teacher has met justifies her position in the Conservatory as teacher of advanced piano pupils who are not under the immediate tuition of Mr. Gustlin.

Miss Page has always been a thorough, conscientious student and these same qualities of precision and sincerity are characteristic of her teaching. Both in her former home state, Oregon, and in her adopted state, Southern California, she has had superior advantages of study under the very best teachers.

MISS LALLA FAGGE

That we have been successful in engaging Miss Fagge's splendid services in the violin department we consider a most fortunate event. She comes with the most glowing American and European criticisms as a performer and teacher and we feel that not only the conservatory, but the whole community as well, is to be sincerely congratulated upon having the advantage of instruction by so accomplished a musician.

In the past the public has failed to appreciate in sufficient measure the advantages of really first class instruction on that marvelous instrument, the Violin. But we have decided to try once more, and in presenting Miss Fagge we bespeak for her department the patronage which true artistic merit and ability deserve.

We would here call especially attention to the very moderate rates we have made for tuition in the Violin department.

such family stores of manuscripts and old time newspapers that an adequate interpretation and recording of the history of California may at last be made possible.

OR COST VERSUS QUALITY

It is impossible to get "something for nothing" in this world. A man generally GETS about what he PAYS FOR. If he pays a low price, he gets a cheap article, if he pays more, he gets a better one. Cheap printing is dear at any price. Good printing is not an expense—it is an investment. HENRICKSON'S BODY FOUND

Week's Search at Lake Hemet Ends in Recovery of Remains of Santa Ana Man

The body of A. B. Henrickson, the Santa Ana automobile man who was drowned in Lake Hemet on Thursday of last week, was recovered at 9:30 o'clock this morning, and at 1 o'clock an undertaker arrived with the body at San Jacinto. It will be shipped to Santa Ana from San Jacinto at 6:30 o'clock tomorrow morning.

George L. Bates, who was Henrickson's partner, and who with Henrickson's father and brother, has kept up a constant search for the body ever since their arrival at the lake the night of the drowning, telephoned to his wife here this afternoon stating that the party of Santa Ana men who have been at the lake will return home tonight.

Henrickson was drowned after a canvass-bottomed boat in which he was riding had capsized. Percy Walker, who attempted to rescue
Henrickson, was also drowned.

TICKET-OPPOSING THE ADMINISTRATION

Clayton, Stoner, Coate and Wright are Named on the Petition

ORANGE, March 8.—Some of the people of Orange have placed what they designate as the Reform ticket in nomination, as follows:

Trustees for two years, W. H. H.
Clayton and Judge C. C. Stoner; trustees for four years, Elwood Coate and W. H. Wright; endorsing the nomination of G. G. Richards, and also endorsing W. E. Clement for treasurer.

Three of the nominations for trustees are old-time residents and property owners of Orange. C. C. Stoner has resided here for three years.
He served four years as judge of Cloud county, Kansas, and for two years in the Kansas legislature.

Petitions for the nomination of these men are said to be in circulation here today, but they have not been filed with the city clerk. This ticket is in opposition to the majority of the present administration.

CANDIDATES AT HUNTINGTON BEACH

Huntington Beach News: Although March 8th is the final day for filing nomination papers with the city clerk, it is not expected that any will be filed other than those now in his hands, and the candidates for the various city offices to be filled at the election occurring on April 8th next are therefore as follows: For city trustee, M. D. Rosenberger, John L. Gail, H. T. Sundbye, Edward E. French and
M. E. Helme. The two first-named gentlemen are the candidates of an organization known as the Citizen's League and the others have been nominated by personal friends. W. T.
Newland, the third nominee of the Citizen's League, has definitely declined to become a candidate.

No less than four men are popularly credited with being candidates for the appointive office of city marshal and superintendent of streets—two offices which have been heretofore combined and filled by the same person. The four are the present incubent, C. F. Sorenson, and Jake J.
Reed, Eugene Davis and E. C. Vincent.
Whether these four are really candidates for the office or whether they have been proposed by friends without their consent will develop later.

For the office of city clerk only one man's name has been mentioned—that of C. E. Lavinger, the present popular and efficient city clerk. The same is true of the office of city treasurer, Ralph E. Graves, cashier of the First National bank of this city and one of the most popular young men in the community, having an apparent monopoly on the office, in spite of the fact that if elected it will be his third term. The third term objections to the presidency of the United States seem to be of negligible strength so far as they concern the treasurer's office in Huntington Beach.

While it is true that only one man's name has been considered for the office of city clerk, it is nevertheless equally true that there is another candidate for the position. It is a woman, Mrs. Susie Whitmore, who has been a resident of this city for the past year and has been employed at various times in the Home Bakery and in the store of R. R. Raymond.
Mrs. Whitmore, desires it stated that she is a graduate of the Frewsburg,
New York, high school and has been a teacher in that state.

Mrs. Mae Franklin, the only woman who is mentioned for the position of city trustee in Huntington Beach, has been long a resident of the city and is well known to nearly all its people.
She is considered fully capable of filling the position and having a very large circle of friends would probably receive a big vote, but declines to run.

NICARAGUANS PLEASED WITH KNOX'S MISSION

CORINTO, Nicaragua, March 8.—
Secretary Knox entertained the members of the Nicaraguan cabinet who terday.

the government at Managua told Knox they were convinced he was a friend of Nicaragua and that his mission had pleased the people.

an is prepared to take the most ex-

PRISON WARDEN PLEADS CAUSE OF CONVICTS AND THEIR FAMILIES

Says That Prisons Should Be Conducted
So As to Convert Convicts Into Useful Men and Women.

CANON CITY, Colo., March 7.—"From statistics we find that, of the 350 criminal cases taken to the supreme court of this state, over sixty per cent have been reversed. Now comes the question: How many men caught in the toils of the law can ever hope to bring their cases to the highest court in the state? And it is not reasonable to assume that, were the supreme court to rule on all the criminal cases—had these men the money to provide for it—only fifty per cent of our present prison population would be here to day."

In these words, Thomas J. Tynan, warden of the Colorado penitentiary here, whose humane methods of handling the convicts committed to his care, have brought forth the praises of the sociologists throughout the country, in an interview with the United Press today summed up the reasons why he is fighting for the privilege and liberties of the men and women convicts.

For several years Tynan has been an advocate of the theory that prisons and reformatories should not be mere places of confinement but should convert convicts into useful men and women, with an object in life and ability to earn an honest living. Some time ago, Tynan astonished penology experts through the country when he successfully put his convicts on their honor and let them work on the roads of the state on their own parole and without being kept under armed guards.

"I believe that nearly 75 per cent of the vast army of men in our prisons today need not serve their sentences behind prison walls," Tynan continued. "I believe they could be profitably worked in the interest of the state as well as themselves, in outdoor work, so that, while technically serving sentences for certain offenses committed they could earn a reasonable and just wage."

"This seventy-five per cent, in most cases, are by no means the hopeless and abandoned creatures we presume are beyond the pale of redemption, but men who can be saved for the improvement of the race or society. Yet there is something in living behind sombre gray walls that steals a man's self respect in a flash and mire from which recovery is seldom attained."

"During the last three years we have had over sixty per cent of our sane, able-bodied population at work on the state road camps and on the state farms, some of them three hundred miles from the prison, all working in the free, open air, with all its attendant benefits, under skilled and competent overseers, with no gun guards, no stripes, no lock and no ball and chain, but every latitude that could be consistently given with safety. In these camps and on these ranches, the men have been taught scientific road building, farming in all its departments, and many departments of the building trades."

"Ninety-nine per cent have proved faithful to their pledge, and the men have set a standard of loyalty and obedience, of thrift and industry that will stand for all time. Was it necessary to tag these men with a number? Was it necessary to shear their hair? Was it necessary to proclaim to the world their criminality and advertise them as lost creatures?"

"A great majority of these men need never have known penal servitude, and again, had we a law that would permit of the payment of a reasonable wage to all these men employed upon the public roads which would enable them to earn enough to keep the family intact and from becoming charges upon the various counties—would not such a law as this serve a splendid purpose?"

"The public little knows of the sorrow, bitterness, misery and poverty, our modern prison spreads. A tottering old lady, already on the brink of eternity, visits her stalwart son every Sunday. He is serving a fifteen year sentence, and is her only support. Both the mother and son proclaim his innocence—but they are pitifully poor."

"Two young farmers are each serving a three year sentence for 'chicken stealing,' and they both claim, perhaps truthfully so, dire necessity as the cause. Each man has a family. Their families blindly and helplessly followed them here. Living in a squalor and wretchedness hard to imagine, they came to me the other day—no work and could not get work—no coal—no clothes and no fuel! They begged eloquently for their husbands, that they might create by their labor and supply those necessities of life which they were so urgently in need of—but it was impossible, for the law so operates that these men contribute an unremunerated labor to the state, while their wives and children and parents are the sufferers."

"Eliminating the police system of hounding men back to the prisons and the jails—eliminating the fee and contract systems—paying more attention to the circumstances attending the crime than to the fact itself—enacting legislation providing for this—and the percentage of men in prisons would be reduced to a minimum that would astonish the country. There is nothing silly or maudlin to this—nothing but the soundest application of common sense."

"The entire system is wrong throughout the country. It cannot be changed in a day, nor in a month, nor in a year—and nothing but a clean sweep, beginning at the village constable's office and leading into the very courts, can better the shameful and miserable penal conditions in this country. This is why I am fighting for the liberties and the privileges and lawful rights of these men, regardless of the fine points and technicalities involved."

TRAIN SHOWING IMPROVED FARM METHODS WILL BE HERE THREE HOURS TOMORROW A. M.

The agricultural demonstration train arrived in this county today, and at the points in the northern end of the county where it stopped scores of people visited it and found their visits extremely profitable.

The train will remain at Anaheim until tomorrow morning when it will leave for Santa Ana, arriving here tomorrow (Saturday) morning at 9 o'clock for a stay of three hours.

At 1 o'clock the train will arrive at Smelter for a stay until 2:30 o'clock.

It is not only those engaged in farming that are interesting themselves with the coming of the train, but the teachers of the various schools in the city urge students to visit each car. This train conducted by the Southern Pacific Company and the University of California free of cost to the public has accomplished a world of good in the past seasons in advancing scientific methods of agriculture in California. The train this season is the most complete that has ever been sent out. Car No. 1 will contain animal industries; car No. 2, veterinary science; car No. 3, dairy industry and field crop division, soils and fertilizers; car No. 4, native birds and mammals, insecticides and fungicides, plant diseases; car No. 5, horticulture and viticulture; car No. 6, College of Agriculture; car No. 7, public health and home economics.

California's Lemon Crop This Year Biggest Ever

SAN FRANCISCO, March 8.—California's lemon crop this year will be one of the largest since the culture of that fruit was first inaugurated in this state. At the present time the lemon growers of the state estimate a minimum crop of 5000 carloads. Up to and including the last day of February, 1341 carloads had already been shipped this year and the remainder of the crop will be moved just as quickly as cars can be provided. The usual loss to the lemon crop each year on account of frosts, was very small in this state this season, and some of the growers predict as heavy a season as last year.

Since the season of 1906-07, when 2507 carloads of California lemons were shipped east, the output has grown steadily until but very few lemons now have to be imported from this country. During the last five years 26,208 carloads of lemons have been shipped out of California over the lines of the Southern Pacific. The average annual shipment is about 5241 carloads and the minimum estimate of this year's shipment is said to have been placed quite low, especially as last year's business amounted to 6764 carloads; another reason being that the loss to the crop this year on account of frost will be very light.

California can supply lemons to every part of the United States and it will not be necessary for the importation of one case of this fruit, is the way members of the California Citrus Fruit Growers Exchange express themselves regarding the 1911-12 lemon crop.

CITY'S SEPTIC TANK IS GIVING RESULTS EXPECTED FROM IT

Orange News: An inspection of the city's septic tank on the outfall sewer Wednesday demonstrated that the claims put forward in behalf of the septic process of sewage disposal are upheld by actual performances. The septic tank belonging to the city of Orange is doing its work in a manner which at this time leaves nothing to be desired.

The south compartment of the tank is a vat 10x70 feet in area and is now filled with sewage to a depth of eight feet. The discharge of the outfall sewer was turned into this compartment on February 23, and as yet the surface crust desirable for the most complete septic action has not been entirely formed. Despite the fact that 42,000 gallons of sewage is in process of decomposition when a manhole in the top of the tank was lifted no odor was perceptible.

At the outlet weir a stream of clear water, estimated at fifteen inches, pours over the weir gate at certain times of the day, and to all appearances it is free from all solids. This water is used for irrigation purposes on the Leonard ranch and is an asset of great value to the owner. At the expiration of five years three-fourths of this water will be at the disposal of the city.

There are at the present time about 200 connections to the sewer system.

OBJECTION MADE TO SUGAR COMPANY PROPOSED OUTFALL

Huntington Beach News: Assistant City Attorney D. G. Wetlin was instructed by the city trustees at their regular meeting held Monday evening to file a protest with the United States Engineer's office at Los Angeles against the plan of the Southern California Sugar Company of Santa Ana to build its sewer through the Rancho Las Bolsas to the Pacific ocean at a point between this city and Newport Beach. The reason given by the trustees for filing the protest was that at some time in the near future it is expected that a canal will be built from this city to Newport Beach connecting it with Newport Bay, and the proposed sewer would cross the line of such proposed canal.

BRIGHT EYES WIN FORTUNE

An old saying and one familiar to every one is that the eyes are the windows of the soul. Nothing gives confidence quicker than the frank, friendly gaze of a pair of bright eyes. And the eyes are not only soul windows, they are also health barometers. The eye is the first to show the existence of bodily ill. Any irregularity of the blood, liver or kidneys immediately takes away that bright, scintillating, confidence-engendering, appearance of the eye, so necessary to success.

Dim eyes are a sure forerunner of physical unfitness and unless one is in perfect health one cannot hope to cope with conditions and come out victorious in the battle for fortune. Brackett's System Builder, that "pleasant-to-take" herb tablet, removes the cause—cleans those organs upon which good health depends, and gives bright eyes, a good complexion and a genial disposition. 50 doses, 50c—six boxes, $2.50. THE STONE WITNESS OR GREAT PYRAMID

God's Altar in the Midst of the Land of Egypt.

Its Symbolic Teachings Corroborate Science and the Bible, Refuting Evolution and Higher Criticism—It Indicates Distance to Sun, High Calling of Church and Hope of the World.

(PASTOR RUSSELL)

Cairo, Egypt, March 3.—The Committee appointed by the International Bible Students Association to report on Foreign Missions is home-ward bound, instead of visiting the missions of eastern and southern Africa. They will recommend another commission for Africa and Australasia, etc.

We report Pastor Russell's discourse of today, from the text which he said referred directly to the Great Pyramid located near this city: "In that day there shall be an altar to the Lord in the midst of the land of Egypt. . . . for a sign and for a witness." (Isa. xix, 19, 20.) Not only did God thus mention prophetically in Isaiah the great Pyramid, but also in Jeremiah xxxii, 20, where we read that "He set signs and wonders in the land of Egypt, even unto this day."

The location of the Pyramid is remarkable, and its size centuries ago marked it as one of the Seven Wonders of the world.

Scientists tell us that the measurement of its base on the four sides, at the level of its sockets, when added, gives as many pyramid cubits as there are days in four years, to the fraction—including the leap year fraction. The diagonal measurements across the base, N. E. to S. W., and N. W. to S. E., give as many inches as there are years in the precessional cycle of the stars. This cycle astronomers had already concluded to be 25,827 years, and the Pyramid corroborates the conclusion. The distance to the sun is indicated by the height and angle of the Pyramid to be 91,840,270 miles, which almost exactly corresponds with the latest figures reached by astronomers.

Spiritual Lessons Here Taught.

A key suggested in 1808 by a young Scotchman, Robert Menzies, and which began to open the Pyramid's religious lessons, was the Well. He wrote to Prof. Plazzi Smyth, Astronomer Royal for Scotland, "From the north beginning of the Grand Gallery, in upward progression, begin the years of our Savior's life, expressed at the rate of a year for an inch. Three and thirty inch-years, therefore, bring us right over against the mouth of the Well." In other words, that Well and the appearance of an explosion, picture our Lord's death and resurrection. In harmony with this the Downward Passage represents the course of sin and death, leading to destruction. The low Ascending Passage, blocked by the granite "Plug," represents the Law Covenant given to the Jews, but which none were able to keep, because "there is none righteous, no, not one."

From the time of our Savior the Gospel Dispensation began, symbolically represented by the Grand Gallery. It is a Dispensation of grace or favor, nevertheless its Passageway is deep and narrow, leading to the "Goal" at the farther end. As the Grand Gallery has an end, so this Gospel Age will have an end. It will accomplish its purpose, which is the gathering of the "elect" to be the Bride of Christ.

Another interesting feature is that the Ascending Passage with its Plug represents exactly the length of the Jewish Age! And, similarly, the Grand Gallery represents (an inch to a year) the length of this Gospel Dispensation! It indicates that at a certain time the great favor of becoming joint-sacrificers with the Redeemer, and thus becoming joint-heirs with Him in His Kingdom, will terminate.

The King's Chamber Granite.

Before entering the Ante-Chamber or school, the pupil must stoop low, implying humility. No sooner has he risen than he finds himself confronted by a huge granite obstruction, known as the Granite Leaf, and he can make no further progress except by bowing low to pass under it. Symbolically it says, It is not sufficient that you have a desire for Godliness, and faith in Jesus, and a desire to be taught of Him; you cannot go further unless you make a full surrender to God.

The Passage leading from the Ante-Chamber to the King's Chamber is just as low as the Granite obstruction, which seems to say that as the one represents a condition of death of the will, the other represents actual death—only by actual death could our Savior or any of His followers pass into the Heavenly state, symbolized by the King's Chamber; for, "We must all be changed," because "Flesh and blood cannot enter the Kingdom of God."

We understand the Horizontal Passageway leading to the Queen's Chamber to symbolically represent the trials and testings that will be upon the human family incidental to attaining human perfection, under the glorious reign of Messiah's Kingdom, when the Church as the Bride of Christ will be associated with her Lord in effecting human restitution to all the willing and obedient.—Acts iii, 19-23.

HILL'S CORNER

This corner of the Kansas Tin Shop is inclined to "take issue" with Bro. Taft and remind him that at this distance it would look better if he would attend to the President business and allow the rest of us to talk over the matter of his successor. If we want him to succeed himself he will get there but if the people want another man there is a way provided for us to choose between him and the other man.

Hunting for votes, that he may get the nomination, is not a very dignified job but to use the big stick to compel the numerous office-holders to shout for him is an outrage that the people of these United States will rebuke next November.

"Them's my sentiments."

When we come right down to things nearer home we find that our school board (particularly the masculine end of it) has "put their foot in it" and by their childish folly have defeated the "Poly High." Wherefore we would like to apply the recall business and elect three good women and true in their place.

There are a few other matters that need attention, —some things will receive early consideration.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

The decidedly firm condition of the potato market the first part of this week was followed yesterday by further advances on all grades. High-lands showed an advance on the inside range of 10 cents to $2.25. The outside figure of $2.50 was firmly held. Salinas advanced 15 cents in bulk to $2.75. Oregon Early Rose advanced 25 cents to $3.00. White Rose, locals, went to $2.75. Watsonville to $2.65. $2.75 and Oregon to $2.50 per hundredweight. The market appeared firm at these advances and will probably go higher shortly. Although many jobbers believe price increases will be gradual, rather than sharp. The advanced quotations are not confined to the local markets, but higher prices are prevailing throughout the country owing to the short crop. It will be June before new stock is matured.

The receipts of asparagus were liberal, but prices were firm at the closing rates of the previous day. The market was active and an average quality of the receipts was high and the ruling figures were from 8 cents to 15 cents per pound.

Celery was slightly firmer, fancy long stalks selling at $5.75 a crate. Rhubarb was weak with receipts large and sales slow. Strawberry rhubarb declined to $2.25 a box for fancy stock.

Citrus fruits were in better demand. The rain seemed to put more spirit in the trading, and though sales were not large there was a firmer undertone shown. Fancy large sized oranges, grapefruit and fancy packs of lemons sold readily at the old range of prices.

The apple market was inclined to be dull. There was a fair shipping movement, but the local demand was only moderate, with the call for fancy large sizes.

The egg market showed a decline of 2 cents on all grades. Canned selects went to 23 cents, case counts to 19 cents and seconds and pullets stock to 17 and 16 cents, respectively. The decline was due to heavier receipts and a falling off in the demand. Many retailers are purchasing their supplies direct from the producers and are selling their stock irrespective of board quotations. Receipts were 791 cases.

Butter receipts were 50,154 pounds. The heavy stock in nowise affected prices. There was a fair demand for extras and firsts at 30 cents. No change is looked for, and handlers assert that the market on both creamery extras and firsts is about as low as it will go.

The cheese market continued firm. There was a good outlet for most varieties under the recent advance. Northern fresh was in good call at 21 cents. Arrivals were 1208 pounds. Onions of the yellow variety were firm at $2.25 to $3.50 a hundredweight. White was scarce and firm at the old range of figures. Receipts were 11 sacks.

The sweet potato market was featureless. There was only a light call for fancy stock. Receipts were 58 sacks.

Potato arrivals were 3589 sacks.

How the Big Contest Will Close

Five Judges Will Decide the Winners

The Contest Will Close Sharp at 9 O'clock Saturday Night, March 16th. Final Ballots Will be Counted in the Register Office.

The following are the rules that all candidates must strictly adhere to for the closing of this contest:

These rules are advertised one week ahead in order that all the candidates and their friends may study them. If there is anything that is not plain the candidates and their friends are requested to notify the contest editor at once in order that it may be made clear.

After the ballots are counted Friday morning at 10 o'clock for publication in the evening issue of the Register, the lock on the ballot box will be sealed, and the keys will be turned over to the judges at that time. After counting the ballots on Friday morning and before sealing the box the judges will thoroughly examine the same to see that no ballots remain in it and the sealing will be personally conducted by the chosen judges. The box will not be opened again until the final count. This assures every candidate in the race that the vote she polls after 10 a. m. Friday morning will be polled with absolute secrecy to herself.

Any subscriptions that candidates may have to turn into the contest department after Friday morning at 10 o'clock must be put in a sealed envelope accompanied by the correct amount of cash money, money order, currency or certified check, CHECKS NOT CERTIFIED WILL NOT BE ACCEPTED. These envelopes must be received by mail or handed into the contest department unopened before 9 o'clock Saturday night, March the 16th, which will be the closing date and hour of the contest. The contestants must poll all the ballots they may have, but under no consideration will any subscriptions be received after 9 p. m. Saturday, March the 16th.

As soon as all the ballots have been made out for the amount of subscriptions contained in the sealed envelopes the judges will then commence the final count to decide the winner.

One of the judges will call the amount of each ballot, two of the judges will verify the amount he has called, and the other two judges will tally. The ballots will then be recounted on the adding machine, and before any decision is made all three tally scores will have to be identically the same.

The judges who will decide the winners of the E-M-F Touring car, the Dining Room Set, the Diamond Ring, the White Sewing Machine, two Scholarships at the Orange County Business College, and the three Scholarships at the Orange County Conservatory of Music, have been carefully selected and a glance at the following names, we are sure, will meet the approval of all:

MR. FRANK EY Mayor
H. T. RUTHERFORD Farmers and Merchants Bank
C. S. CROOKSHANK First National Bank
W. B. WILLIAMS County Clerk
JUDGE Z. B. WEST Superior Judge

The counting of the ballots will be a public affair and every one is invited from far and near to attend the final count. It will be a sight worth seeing and we promise you more excitement on Saturday night, March the 16th, than has ever been witnessed in Santa Ana before, municipal and county elections not excepted.

Your Success Rests With Yourself Alone

Make Sure That You Get Your Share of these Big Ballots Before the Last Big Vote Offer Ends.

If you are one of these candidates whose name appears on this page you are in the running good and strong.

If you have not as many votes as the leader that is all the more reason why you should proceed to get busy in the final rush.

Get busy—the race will be as close as the stem of the leaf is to the bark of a tree.

And lay a great deal of stress on that word "busy." It will be the means of your taking in the slack at the finish.

By coveting the "slack" at the finish is meant, that you will gather in the loose votes of those who have promised your support provided you look like a winner towards the end.

Whether you are at the bottom of the list or at the top, you'll have to keep gathering in the votes. A vote overlooked by you will be taken in by your competitor.

Be careful that you do not overlook a single new one, two and five year subscription to the Daily Register.

If you are satisfied with what votes you already have, all well and good, but satisfaction at this stage of the contest will bring destruction to your campaign on March 16th. There are others who will use every effort to beat you before the close of the contest and you will have to keep pace with them to stand an equal chance.

If you are behind the leader in this good-natured tug-of-war, you have ample time to make a showing, and a winning showing at that.

Don't get a mistaken idea of the progress and integrity of those at the top of the list. It doesn't necessarily follow that because they have cast a whole lot more votes than you have that you won't catch up before the eleventh hour.

Without detracting at all from the splendid work of the leaders, we can say that there is a limit to everything, and that they have possibly reached their limit. We can't speak for what they'll do, or what any candidate will do. Its just as likely as not that the winner of the contest on Saturday night, March 16th, is at the bottom of the list today as at the top.

There are just 7 working days left and everything depends on the progress you make in these seven days.
